Theological School

Founded in 1877, Trinity College Theological School is an internationally recognised centre for theological education, research and ministry formation, located in the heart of Melbourne. It is the official ministry training college for the Anglican Province of Victoria.

Members of our Faculty are leading researchers and teachers in Biblical studies and theological training, and our graduates are sought after as thinkers and priests in parishes across Australia.

As a College of the University of Divinity, Trinity offers a range of world-class learning opportunities that will equip you for ministry, encourage you in your vocation, and prepare you to lead and shape the emerging church in Australia.
Are you called to Ministry?
Trinity’s ministry stream assists students in discerning their Christian vocation and prepares them for lay or ordained ministry in the Anglican Church, in parishes, schools or other agencies.

The Trinity Ministry Formation Program, held on Mondays, provides degree-level study focused on ministerial and pastoral practice.
