OVERVIEW

Founded in 1872 as the first college of the University of Melbourne, Trinity College is a unique tertiary institution that provides a diverse range of academic programs to talented students from across Australia and around the world.

These programs include:

- the Residential College for undergraduate and postgraduate students of the University of Melbourne and of the Trinity College Theological School, both resident and non-resident
- Trinity College Theological School (TCTS), a centre for Anglican theology and ministry that educates people, lay and ordained, to work for the transformation of church and society
- Trinity College Foundation Studies (TCFS), which offers a range of one-year courses that prepare able overseas students for undergraduate entry to the University of Melbourne and other leading Australian universities

- the Trinity Institute, which offers inspirational leadership programs for high school students, innovative professional development, and thought-provoking open learning opportunities for all.

Trinity College actively contributes to the life of the wider University, and its main campus is located adjacent to the University grounds.

An Anglican institution, Trinity welcomes people of all faiths and none. The College celebrates, and is enriched by, the diversity of backgrounds of its staff and students.

Trinity student numbers in all parts of the College in 2012 were:

WARDEN'S REPORT

Last year Campbell Bairstow and I shared leadership of Trinity, Campbell acting as Warden in the first half of the year when I took a sabbatical at Yale University. I am happy to report that the College flourished in my absence! As this report indicates, our various programs have continued to serve their students well, and the College has continued to achieve important strategic goals, including improvements to our facilities and in the breadth and depth of our programs.

While at Yale I was not completely apart from College life, however; living in the resident student community at Yale Divinity School, I was also welcomed to Fellows' events at Timothy Dwight College, one of the 12 residential colleges at Yale, founded there in the 1920s – relatively recently, given that Yale itself dates to 1701. While Trinity's members and friends need little convincing of the value of residential life as part of a university experience, it was encouraging to see the centrality of the colleges at Yale and to be reminded of resonances between life here and there. Yale's new partnership with the National University of Singapore to create a liberal arts college in a regional neighbour puts those resonances in a new and challenging perspective.

Yale-NUS is potentially a competitor with this College and the University of Melbourne, both for students currently coming to Foundation Studies at Trinity before a Melbourne degree, and also for Australian undergraduates. There are increasing numbers of Australian undergraduates at Yale's New Haven campus, and at Harvard, as well as at Oxford and Cambridge. Quite a few students at schools which have traditionally sent students on to this College are now seeing their choices in much wider terms than the local campus or Australian competitors.

It is especially interesting that at a time when some of these global educational leaders, including our own University of Melbourne, are putting significant course content online for free, the demand for the most traditional forms of community life at university is growing, rather than declining. We continue to develop our long-standing online courses in Theology and to expand our educational technology offerings in other areas, but we see these as complementary to, rather than substitutes for, other forms of learning and engagement.

Trinity needs to keep and develop that global perspective. We have of course had forms of international engagement for many years, and most recently our Foundation Studies and Young Leaders programs have been particularly important for welcoming international students. We are thus well placed to welcome students from anywhere, and to encourage them to pursue their own goals in all parts of the world. Australian students are certainly seeing their options as global; we want them and others, from Asia, but also from Europe, the Americas and Africa, to know that one of the most outstanding sets of opportunities anywhere can be found right here at Trinity.

COUNCIL

The College Council consists of representatives of all major sectors of the Trinity College community, including students, staff, alumni, donors, the church and the University. As the peak governance body of the College, the Council's role is to ensure observance of the Trinity Constitution and to provide advice to the Board, the Warden and officers of the College. The Council met in May, when it appointed the Rt Revd John Parkes AM KStJ, to the Board, elected new honorary Fellows of the College, and discussed the Annual Report of the College for 2011. At its November meeting, Council elected further Fellows, and participated in an energetic discussion, led by the Warden, on strategic issues facing the College over the coming five years.

BOARD

Trinity seeks to provide a world-class collegiate education to our students. The College is fortunate to have an active and energetic Board that continues to focus on meeting this goal. The Board works on strategic matters related to the future positioning of the College and on continually lifting the quality of governance in the College. To this end, all meetings include one or two major topics to allow in-depth discussion and debate of key topics. A number of teaching and administrative staff, from each of the educational divisions and support departments, made presentations to the Board and contributed to Board discussions in 2012.

Over 40 key performance indicators are used by the Board to track the current status of the College's performance, including operations, risk management, and capital investments. The Board's comprehensive annual self-evaluation forms a basis of measuring its effectiveness across a range of key areas.

The Board held eight meetings during the year. Some of the key areas addressed during its monthly meetings included international strategy, the Strategic Plan, the annual risk review, operating and capital budgets, fundraising, future arrangements with the University of Melbourne related to Foundation Studies, and the Student and Staff Codes of Conduct. The Board also approved a range of major infrastructure projects including the landscaping projects for the Sharwood Court and Wynne Cottage/Kitchen North, the Jeopardy stage 2 renovation, and a new telephony contract. Members of the Senior Management Team of the College were frequent guests at Board meetings to discuss their budgets, their operational performance, their short-term and longer-term goals, and areas where the Board could provide assistance and guidance.

The Board was pleased to reappoint Ms Oshana De Silva and Mr Stuart Gooley during 2012, each for an additional two-year term. Mr Matthew Hargreaves followed Mr Sean Hewetson as Senior Student. The Board farewelled Dr Graeme Blackman at the conclusion of his term of eight years on the Board. Dr Blackman had served on several of the Board's committees, and was also Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Foundation; his knowledge and breadth of experience will be greatly missed. The Board also wished Dr Blackman well in his new role as Chancellor of the MCD University of Divinity.

FELLOWS

Fellowship is the highest honour that is in the College's power to bestow, and its award is thus reserved for conspicuous achievement in public life and in contribution to the College. At its May meeting, the Council raised Mr Robert Cripps AM, and Mr James S Guest AM OBE VRD, from the status of Fellow to that of Senior Fellow, and elected as new honorary Fellows Dr Roger Hamline Stafford Riordan AM, Professor Marcia Lynne Langton AM FASSA, and Mr Clive Smith. These three were installed as Fellows during Evensong on 7 October. In November, the Council elevated Sir Brian Inglis AC, Mr Brian Loton AC, and the Hon. Clive Tadgell AO QC, to the status of Senior Fellow, and elected as Fellows Professor (Charles) Ian Edward Donaldson FAHA FBA FRSE, and Dr (Norman) Bruce Munro FRACS FRANZCO. We congratulate all those so elected on their achievements. The Warden hosted a lunch for all Fellows of the College in the Junior Common Room on 12 November.

It was with great sadness that the College acknowledges the contribution of two long-standing Fellows who died during the year. Professor AGL Shaw AO, a former resident student and Dean of the College, had been elected Fellow in 1980, and had in 2011 been elevated to Senior Fellow. Dame Elisabeth Murdoch, like Professor Shaw, was a generous benefactor to the College. She was elected as Fellow in 1990 and contributed greatly to many areas of the College, particularly music.

FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

The College performed better than budget in 2012, which was an excellent result given some challenges faced during the year. Key among these was the builder undertaking the Dining Hall redevelopment project going into liquidation, resulting in us having to appoint a replacement builder late in the project. This resulted in additional costs for the building works, hire of temporary facilities and consultant fees.

The international student market for Foundation Studies was again subject to a number of external dependencies including the high Australian dollar, increased in-country competition as countries develop local education programs that can provide direct entry to Australian universities, and increased competition from USA, UK and Canada. Despite these, Foundation Studies enrolments in 2012 exceeded target by some 12% and have increased in a market that declined year-on-year overall.

The charts below show a breakdown of the sources of College income and areas of College expenditure. Fee income is clearly the main form of income, representing 78.5%, followed by donations, 7.2%, investment income, 6.5% and other revenue, 5.2%. Salaries and staff-related costs represent 48.3% of College expenditure in 2012, with administration and other, 17.2%, buildings and property, 12.5%, depreciation, 9.2% and marketing and promotions, 8.7%.

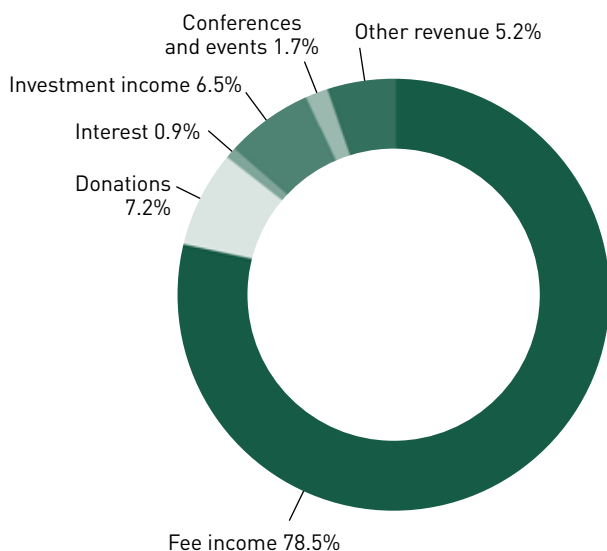

Donations in 2012 to Trinity College and the Trinity College Foundation were again strong and exceeded budget, with funds donated for scholarships, buildings and grounds projects and teaching featuring solidly.

The College spent some $6.6 million on capital works in 2012 to improve infrastructure and operations. The major projects included the Dining Hall redevelopment, landscaping works for the Vatican Lawn, Sharwood Court and Kitchens, completion of the Leeper chimney and north face restoration, refurbishment of student rooms in Kitchens and in the Memorial Building (Jeopardy), completion of the desktop/laptop replacement project, and other improvements to IT infrastructure.

The investment funds' performance in 2012 was +18.9% compared to the benchmark portfolio's performance of +15.6%. These investment funds support the College through the funding of scholarships, studentships, contributing to staff teaching and lectureships, building projects and other College activities. The College Board, through the Finance and Investment Committees, regularly review the College's investment performance and fund drawdowns to ensure that programs and activities are supported adequately while also endeavouring to ensure endowed funds are maintained in real terms for the long term.

SENIOR STAFF

There were several changes in the senior staff of the College during 2012. During Semester One, the Warden was on Sabbatical leave, and the Dean and Deputy Warden, Mr Campbell Bairstow, was Acting Warden during this time; Dr Sally Dalton-Brown, Head of Academic Programs, was Acting Dean. In April Dr Alan Watkinson, Director of Advancement, took up a position at the Melbourne Business School. A search process identified Mr Scott Charles to fill this role from late in the year, and in the interim Campbell Bairstow filled this role also. At the beginning of second semester, the Revd Dr Andreas Loewe, College Chaplain, was appointed as Dean of Melbourne, the fifth College Chaplain to undertake that role.

INDIGENOUS PROGRAMS

It is now some 10 years since the first Indigenous Australians joined Trinity as resident students. Much has been learned and much achieved in those years, and there is good cause for celebration after a decade of education of Indigenous and non-Indigenous members of the College. At times there have also been frustrations and disappointments for students and staff but this has rarely been because of a lack of goodwill or commitment.

In December, Carla Scafi (TC 2009), graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree. Carla is the first graduate in the BA (Extended) pathway program that commenced in 2009, and her achievement is a signal moment for the University and Trinity. All parties, including fellow residential colleges, remain committed to building and sustaining a pathway to tertiary education for young Indigenous women and men and it is anticipated that in 2013 a number of fellow students will follow Carla's example.

Fifteen indigenous students were in residence in the College, spread across the faculties of Arts, Biomedicine, Postgraduate Medicine, Commerce, Physio, Music and Theology. Four of these students successfully completed first year BA (Extended), two of them achieving an H1 average. Indigenous students attended both Summer and Winter Young Leaders and Social Justice programs, and the College further cemented ties with the Yalari Foundation and the Smith Family. The first students through the Yalari program (years 4-12) will graduate this year and it is anticipated that some of them will be at the University of Melbourne and in residence in 2013.

Residential students again visited the remote Minyerri community in the Northern Territory, and College students continue to take part in the mid year Teachabout Program, established by Trinity alumni to assist Minyerri students to transition to high school.

SUSTAINABILITY

The College appointed two residential students to the position of Sustainability Interns in 2012 to help improve awareness of the College's sustainability objectives and practices across the various parts of the College and to help embed the behavioural changes required to meet the objectives for reductions in greenhouse gas emissions, waste, water and increased recycling to name a few.

The refurbishment of the Jeopardy student rooms over summer involves such environmental features as the installation of hydronic heating throughout the building which will be more energy efficient than the electric slab and panel heating previously installed, installation of double-glazed windows and improved insulation.

STRATEGIC PLAN

The three-year strategic plan that had been developed in 2010 was continued, with the Board and Senior Management refining its details as the year progressed. The major strategies pursued during 2012 are outlined below.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

Objective: To develop and diversify our academic programs, ensuring high quality, innovation and a formational student experience, with emphasis on Indigenous engagement and sustainability, and to share them with an increasingly large and diverse audience.

- Continue development of health and wellbeing programs
- Examine the experience of and offering to graduate students
- Develop strategies to increase student numbers in the Ministry Formation Program
- Pursue opportunities in relation to the new MCD University of Divinity
- Continue to improve teaching spaces and AV facilities for Foundation Studies
- Fully implement iPad technology in Foundation Studies teaching and learning
- Continue to strengthen strategic relationship with the University
- Continue to explore new program niches with the University
- Continue to build student numbers across both Young Leaders July and December programs and create new bespoke programs in the Trinity Institute
- Develop the model of the Gourlay Visiting Professor of Ethics in Business so as to make such visits College-wide academic events

CAPITAL WORKS

Objective: To improve and expand our educational and residential facilities.

- Complete the Dining Hall project
- Commence stage two of the Jeopardy student rooms renovation
- Landscape the Vatican Lawn
- Complete Leeper Building fabric restoration
- Complete sketch design for the Southern Precinct project

HUMAN RESOURCES

Objective: To foster a positive, cohesive and efficient work environment that will develop and support an outstanding staff community.

- Ensure professional development enables staff to achieve the College's strategic objectives
- Build staff capacity across areas of expertise to ensure knowledge is retained and processes are integrated/improved

INFORMATION RESOURCES

Objective: To develop and enhance the College's technological infrastructure and information management.

- Begin the network improvement program
- Standardise the desktop operating environment
- Improve IT systems' resilience

PROCESS IMPROVEMENT

Objective: To re-engineer key College-wide processes to ensure efficiency and effectiveness.

- Complete a business continuity plan
- Review and revise governance practices, particularly in effectiveness of committee structures and reporting
- Conduct major review of Shared Services, particularly to benchmark services and expenditure against comparable businesses

PHILANTHROPY

Objective: To engage more deeply with alumni and friends of the College in order to raise sufficient funds to support the goals of the College Strategic Plan.

- Complete $1 million in philanthropic support for the Dining Hall project
- Revitalise the workings of the Foundation Executive
- Work with Board and Senior Management to expand and develop prospective supporter list for transformational and major gifts

FINANCE

Objective: To develop the financial resources necessary to achieve our long-term vision.

- Achieve budget surplus target and generate sufficient cash to meet our medium to long-term needs
- Introduce simplified and graphical reporting for Board and Finance Committees and other governance bodies as required

Having celebrated the College's 140th year in August, the Board held a retreat over two days in September 2012, focused on creating a new strategic plan for the College from 2013, looking toward our 150th anniversary in 2022.

“ Trinity students once again displayed their readiness to give back to the community through participation in a number of volunteer programs throughout the year. ”

RESIDENTIAL COLLEGE

The Residential College enjoyed a successful year. Academic standards remained impressively high and the quality of teaching through tutorials and consultations was consistently good. The first cohort of students in the new Melbourne graduate schools did well in the second year of studies in fields such as Medicine and Law.

Student life was rich and varied. The play, Agatha Christie's And Then There Were None and the musical, The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee (Union House Theatre Production of the Year Award), were well delivered and enjoyed greatly by well-attended audiences. The College performed admirably in a range of artistic and cultural pursuits and the students are commended on earning the Intercollegiate Shield for the Arts for 2012. Other highlights included public concerts for the a capella groups the Candystripes and the Trinity Tiger Tones, a cultural exchange to College House at the University of Canterbury, Christchurch, New Zealand, and a second Big Day In festival, a celebration of student music in many forms. The most exciting initiative in the arts was the establishment of a Trinity College Orchestra. Some 40 players came together under the leadership of conductor Patrick Miller, and the concert held in October was outstanding. Happily, the Trinity Orchestra will continue next year.

Trinity students once again displayed their readiness to give back to the community through participation in a number of volunteer programs throughout the year. Tutoring services with the River Nile and Australian Indigenous Mentoring Experience (AIME) continued weekly while individuals contributed strongly to tutoring with the Smith Family. Alongside these established programs students regularly helped out at the Asylum Seeker Refuge Centre.

The annual Northern Territory Trip to Minyerri was led successfully by Georgina McKay and Miranda Gaze. Twenty students spent a week teaching in the remote community of Minyerri before experiencing six days of meetings with influential figures involved in working through social issues surrounding the Indigenous population of the Northern Territory. The trip was immensely educational with all students returning with greater insights into the challenges faced by those living both in remote communities but also within Australian cities.

The 2012 Gala Night welcomed over 100 guests to be entertained by various musical items from members of the Trinity community before being addressed by Tim Costello who delivered a fascinating speech questioning Why do we contribute to the community? Through ticket sales, a silent auction and raffle, the event was able to raise over $5,000 for Teachabout and the Rural Comprehensive Health Project, both worthy causes selected by this year's Outreach Committee. There were also many highlights and much fun in intercollegiate sports. The men won the Cowan Cup as the most successful college, and the women enjoyed their best year for some time, including completing a third consecutive season as undefeated in hockey. The application and enthusiasm of the students, in training, playing and supporting, was sincere and good-spirited.

Dubbed the 'year of the tent', 2012 saw the erection of an impressive marquee that served as a dining hall for 10 months while the Hall was refurbished. The catering staff and students met the challenge of the temporary facility with good spirit and cheerful countenance, and the return to the Dining Hall in time for the Valedictory Dinner was greeted with great acclaim. The modernisation and extension of the Hall has been a splendid achievement and the students recognise this precinct will be the heart of their collegiate life in the years ahead.

The harmony and positive spirit so evident in the past year was in good part the result of the contribution of many leaders. Dr Sally Dalton-Brown (acting Dean in semester one), the two Senior Students, Mr Sean Hewetson and Mr Matthew Hargreaves, and the two committees of the student leadership group, the Trinity College Associated Clubs (TCAC), were instrumental in building and celebrating a strong sense of community, and in ensuring the academic priority of the College was promoted and respected in the midst of a rich and vibrant offer of extracurricular programs and occasions. Mr Jeff Richardson and Ms Kristie Nevill worked tirelessly and effectively to organise and manage student life, including admissions, and are thanked sincerely for taking on extra duties to cover various periods of leave and deployment for colleagues.

Dr Megan Ang finished her term as a Resident Tutor in 2012 and left with sincere thanks and good wishes for her career in Medicine. Ms Helen Gray and Mr Roger Gray were also farewelled and thanked after their year in the Vatican Cottage as Student Advisors and important members of the resident community.

TRINITY COLLEGE THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL

Established by Bishop Moorhouse in 1877, the Trinity College Theological School is now part of the new MCD University of Divinity (MCDU), Australia's first specialist university, which came into being on 1 January, although existing earlier as an ecumenical consortium founded in 1910.

The School has gained a unique opportunity to review its place within the United Faculty of Theology (UFT), of which the Theological School is a partner with the Jesuit Theological College and the Uniting Church Theological College, and MCDU as a whole.

Dr Megan Warner, who graduated with her doctorate at the first MCDU graduation in May, was appointed Bromby Lecturer in Biblical Studies in January. Subsequently, she was appointed Research Coordinator for the UFT. During the year, two members of faculty became Professors of MCDU: the Revd Dr Dorothy Lee and the Revd Dr Andrew McGowan. The Revd Cecilia Francis took on the role of Coordinator of the Certificate Program. The School also set up an Adjunct Faculty to assist in its wider teaching and research. The School also developed a partnership with St Mary's Anglican Church, North Melbourne, in which the Revd Dr Craig D'Alton will become the St Mary's Lecturer in Anglican Studies.

The academic and formation program in the Theological School has thrived during 2012, with more than 40 students attending the Ministry Formation Program. Dr Andrew Bunting was the Senior Theological Student and worked hard with us to build a vibrant community. The online program, run by Dr David Gormley-O'Brien, is also flourishing. The Certificate Program, which runs theological study at the parish level, has extended its reach and numbers.

In addition to these achievements, the Theological School has been fruitfully engaged with the wider church and society. In March, it hosted a Religious Education Forum at Trinity, chaired by the Revd Canon

Dr Ray Cleary, to discuss the role of religious education in schools. During the same month, Meg Warner prepared Bible studies for the National Bishops Conference. The speaker for the Barry Marshall Memorial Lecture in August was the Hon. Justice Michael Kirby whose topic was: Religion and sexuality: uncomfortable bedfellows. The School presented a conference and book launch Celebrating the 20th anniversary of the ordination of women. Ray Cleary presented the John Naill Lecture to the combined churches of Geelong on Biblical Principles on Justice and the Church. Throughout August, the Theological School held a vocations' month, where members of faculty preached across the Diocese. The Wangaratta Diocesan Conference was held at Trinity in December, with members of faculty giving Bible studies and addresses.

TRINITY COLLEGE FOUNDATION STUDIES

Trinity College Foundation Studies (TCFS) is an award-winning, one year course that annually prepares around 700 overseas students for undergraduate entry to the University of Melbourne and other leading Australian universities by equipping them with the intellectual, linguistic and cultural skills necessary for success at university.

Widely regarded as a benchmark for foundation studies programs in Australia, TCFS courses are academically supervised and quality assured by the University of Melbourne, which guarantees places to those students. On average, around 80% of TCFS graduates achieve the required scores.

The program has been successfully helping prepare international students for university for 22 years now. Longitudinal performance data from within the University of Melbourne shows us that TCFS students do very well once they are in their undergraduate studies. Highly qualified teaching staff use a lecture and tutorial style of teaching to develop independent learning skills. This is combined with individual mentoring, a strong network of student welfare and support services, and a range of extracurricular activities to prepare students for tertiary study.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENTS

The high academic standards of TCFS students are reflected in the following statistics from the 2011– 2012 intakes.

The table is of particular interest this year in that 2012 has been the first full year in which every student entering TCFS has been issued with an iPad and many of the teaching materials and approaches to learning have been expressly designed to use that iPad platform. Earlier trials suggested that students would generally become slightly more engaged and responsive learners, and it was hoped that overall academic performance would also be improved and evident in final results.

The February Main intake from 2012 has delivered overall results that are stronger than for the previous five years, and a greater proportion than usual will receive offers of places at the University of Melbourne. This innovative program of technology assisted teaching and learning was titled Step Forward and results suggest that a step has indeed been taken. We will be closely watching further intakes' results to see if that pattern applies to all groups.

TRINITY INSTITUTE

GOURLAY VISITING PROFESSOR OF ETHICS IN BUSINESS

We were delighted to welcome Professor Ronald Jeurissen, Chair of Business Ethics, Nyenrode Business Universiteit, as the Gourlay Visiting Professor of Ethics in Business in November. The Professor spent five weeks at the College. Professor Jeurissen offered challenging seminars for the residential students, served as the keynote speaker for the Annual Forum on Ethics, Governance and Performance, the CPA Australia Congress and the Fairfax Oration for the Melbourne Business School. The Professor also offered a public lecture at the RACV Club where over 150 attended, and various seminars and workshops for the University of Melbourne and other business leaders in the city.

YOUNG LEADERS PROGRAM, JULY

The Trinity Institute saw a significant increase in July numbers in 2012, largely due to the popularity of the Social Justice program, which attracted a total of 65 students. In July, we had a total of six Indigenous students through Yalari – a significant partner for Trinity – as well as five low socioeconomic students on scholarships from the University of Melbourne, and three refugee students from Gilmore College for Girls, in Footscray. In terms of student population, there were 12 different nationalities represented with students from Hong Kong, Indonesia, Korea, Malaysia, New Zealand, Singapore, Taiwan, Thailand, UAE, US and Vietnam. The English Intensive for International Students, which ran for the first time, attracted 10 Thai students, bringing our total of Thai students to 21. Over six programs, 164 students joined the Young Leaders Program in July.

JUILLIARD WINTER JAZZ SCHOOL

The Juilliard Jazz program also attracted record numbers in Week 1, with 40 students attending from NSW, Qld, South Australia, Victoria, Western Australia, China and India. As usual, the highlight of the week was the student concert where our students performed in ensembles after a week of tutoring from the world's leading jazz teachers, the faculty of Juilliard's Jazz School, New York City.

YOUNG LEADERS PROGRAM, DECEMBER

In December, the Young Leaders program saw record numbers of domestic students totalling 35. Ten of these students were Indigenous and came to our programs via partnerships with Yalari and the Smith Family. We had 11 low socioeconomic students through a partnership with Western Chances, an organisation that has connection with low socioeconomic students in Melbourne's western suburbs as well as three low socioeconomic students sponsored by the University of Melbourne, and four Kwong Lee Dow students, also sponsored by the University. The remainder of our students came from Malaysia (29 in total) as well as Singapore (34) who came via school groups from Ngee Ann Secondary, Meridien JC and Serangoon JC and small numbers from Indonesia, Sri Lanka, the US and New Zealand.

ADVANCEMENT

The College enjoyed a successful year in its Advancement activities. Donations in 2012 amounted to $2.19 million, and fundraising activities for scholarships and teaching and for improved facilities made an important difference to the lives of students and staff.

Continuing success in the annual giving program and several important bequests resulted in the goals for the year being exceeded. Highlights for the year that were supported by philanthropy included the transformation of the Dining Hall and the development of contemporary, casual dining spaces on the northern face of the traditional Hall, progress with landscaping in the north-eastern precinct of the main campus, and commencement of works to refurbish all student accommodation in the Memorial Building (Jeopardy). The small and passionate band of benefactors that contributes annually to student scholarships again made a remarkable difference, and the total financial aid distributed for the year to resident students, comprised of those gifts and endowment income, was more than $1 million.

The area of alumni relations was particularly busy and successful. It was decided that the 140th Anniversary Celebration Dinner would be the principal focus for the year and that regular decade reunions would be suspended as a result. The dinner was a triumph. Almost 600 guests enjoyed a night of fine food and wine, sublime music and splendid company. The Warden spoke eloquently on the achievements and ambitions of the College, with particular emphasis on plans to build significantly the corpus of funds held in endowment to provide scholarships for students in all parts of Trinity. Associate Director, Alumni Relations, Ms Nicole Crook, deserves great praise for the planning and management of such a successful College celebration. Other occasions were also well attended. The annual Fleur-de-Lys Drinks Under the Oak, the Seniors' Lunch, city breakfasts, various Warden's Circle events and a Leeper Society afternoon at Duneira at Mount Macedon, were popular with alumni and friends. These events were important opportunities for continuing engagement with the College, and the support shown was affirming for Trinity staff and those in governance roles. The Warden and Ms Crook visited Singapore and Kuala Lumpur in November and were welcomed warmly by alumni and families linked to Trinity College Foundation Studies.

In many ways 2012 was a year of change, particularly in leadership roles linked to Advancement. The Annual General Meeting of the Trinity College Foundation marked the retirement of the Chairman, Dr Graeme Blackman OAM, after nine years of distinguished service. Dr Blackman made an outstanding contribution as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Foundation and Chair of the Campaign Committee in the life of the remarkably successful Campaign for Trinity, and as a member of the Trinity Board. His support of students in need, in which he was joined by his wife and loyal Trinity supporter Paulene, is acknowledged with gratitude. Mr Charles Sitch, an alumnus with senior corporate and commercial experience and a record of distinguished service as a volunteer in not-for-profit groups, succeeded Dr Blackman as Chairman. The College also acknowledges the special contribution made by Ms Miranda Milne, who resigned after serving on the Executive Committee of the Foundation for 14 years. She is thanked sincerely for her advice flowing from her commercial experience and insights, including in the effective and responsible management of endowments and funds held in trust, and her deep affection for the College.

The year also saw the Director of Advancement, Dr Alan Watkinson, depart to take up a senior position with the Melbourne Business School. In his five years at Trinity, Alan led the development of a number of fundraising initiatives and under his guidance, important and reliable annual philanthropic income was received. He also established connections and professional friendships with many members of the Trinity community, and was an elegant and informed advocate at all times. In January, Ms Astrida Cooper, Associate Director, Major Gifts, was also thanked for two years of loyal service upon her move to a senior role in the independent school sector. Upon the departure of Dr Watkinson, Mr Campbell Bairstow served as acting Director of Advancement until December, when Mr Scott Charles commenced in the role. Scott will bring to the position valuable commercial experience and strong Trinity links as a former student and tutor.

ART AND ARCHIVES

In December 2012, four additions to the College's portrait collection were unveiled in the recently renovated Dining Hall to much acclaim.

These included the current Warden, Professor Andrew McGowan, by artistic duo Charles Green and Lyndell Brown, philanthropist Rupert Myer, by Yvette Coppersmith, Senior Fellow, Professor Emeritus John Poynter, by Julia Ciccarone, and Lianne Gough's portrait of architect Neil Everist, whose firm, McGlashan Everist, was responsible for the construction of the Memorial Building (Jeopardy) in the late 1950s.

With the re-opening of the Dining Hall, a room brochure – A Quick Guide to the Portrait Collection in the Dining Hall – was produced to provide both the College community and visitors a means of identifying works. This approach has been taken in lieu of wall labels to retain a domestic feel, while acknowledging the great diversity of alumni and artists represented in the Collection. The guide has already gone into its second print-run, and has been distributed at associated museums across the University to further promote the College's Collection.

Also contributing to the broader promotion of the College's art collection was the loan of Terry Matassoni's Travelling Home (1989) to a retrospective of his work held at the Maroondah Art Gallery throughout September and October. The work was a purchase by the ER White Club in 1990, and illustrates the significant cultural value of several astute past purchases by the Club. The ER White Club continued to build on these past strengths, acquiring two oil paintings by Sydney-based artist Carla Hananiah. Hananiah was awarded the Blake Prize's John Coburn Emerging Artist Award in 2011, and subsequently won the 2012 Mosman Art Prize Viewers' Choice Award.

The generous gift of Campbell Bairstow and Jill Gregory of a commissioned woven pandanus mat by Yolngu elder, Langani Marika, was another valued addition to the College's existing holdings of Marika family artwork, and has been hung in the new reception foyer where it makes a prominent and important statement about the College's commitment towards Indigenous education.

During the year, the Archives were again in demand from both internal and external researchers. A new photograph database was created to enable searching of the College's growing holdings of digitised photographs. A large portion of the archive material housed in the Behan basement and in offsite storage in Brunswick was transferred to ArchiveSecurity, a professional storage facility in Laverton. In September, the Dean was the guest of the Athenaeum Club when it hosted a dinner celebrating the 200th anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens, at which were displayed several letters by Dickens held in the George Rusden Collection at Trinity. The Rusden Collection index has been moved to a separate database, and will progressively be loaded to the website to allow external searches.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

The Buildings and Ground staff service a wide range of stakeholders across all campuses of the College. Results from the 2012 customer service survey showed continued improvements in staff satisfaction with overall Buildings and Grounds service. Projects undertaken in 2012 reflected the continued implementation of the Building Master Plan (2007) and Grounds Master Plan (2008), together with a range of other works.

Projects under the Buildings Master Plan included overseeing the redevelopment of the Dining Hall, the refurbishment of the Bishops' Building foyer, and the development of an annex between the Leeper Building and the Dining Hall, the refurbishment of student rooms, and completion of the sketch design phase for a proposed new College-wide educational facility in the southern precinct, along Tin Alley.

Grounds Master Plan items included landscaping works associated with the Dining Hall, Vatican Lawn, Sharwood Court and Kitchens precincts, and the installation of a new steel fence along the University boundary. Other works overseen by Buildings and Grounds were the completion of the Signage Master Plan and the installation of CCTV in several Foundation Studies leased premises.

CHAPLAINCY

The Chaplaincy team offers regular worship opportunities, pastoral support and advice to all members of Trinity, be they students, staff, parents, friends, alumni or members of the wider University and Parkville communities.

Funds were raised to assist in reducing the Chapel's carbon footprint; electronic orders of service were introduced to aid that goal. Technology to enable video broadcast of Chapel services to the Old Warden's Lodge was used successfully for several services. Generous Chapel giving by students, staff and members of the wider community, enabled the support of a number of outreach projects.

The Revd Dr Joy Sandefur joined the team as Assistant Chaplain for the year. Bishop

Philip Huggins led the services at Easter, including baptism and confirmation. The Governor of Victoria and the Chancellors of both the University of Melbourne and the MCD University of Divinity attended a service to mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee in May. In July, the Revd Chris Carolane accompanied a group of Foundation Studies students to Central Australia, while he and the Revd Dr Andreas Loewe led the Choir of Trinity College on its tour to Germany and the Baltic State in September.

Students and colleagues were sad to see Andreas depart in October to become the Dean of Melbourne, but wish him well in his new role.

In December, the Chaplains, Music and Advancement staff again produced three well-attended and beautifully sung services of nine lessons and carols, two in the Chapel and the third at St Paul's Cathedral, where a collection in support of Anglicare Victoria was taken.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Communications team produced all print and online marketing collateral for the College in 2012, and brought significant innovation to student handbooks going online. Communications also produces the College magazine, Trinity Today, which is now made available electronically as well as in print. The campus signage project was completed in 2012, under the direction of the Manager, Visual Communications, Ms Dee Jenkins.

Video has become a very important part of the College's promotion materials. The increase in views on YouTube has reflected this, and videos are also distributed to agents and prospective students on DVD and USB drives. The most significant video produced in 2012 was shown at the 140th Anniversary Celebration Dinner in August, promoting the continuing need for scholarship endowments.

Our social media strategy supports our overall communications strategy and our activities reflect and are consistent with our key messages and branding. Interacting online gives us the opportunity to show a little more of Trinity's personality – one that is responsive, informative, relevant, friendly and fun. We have used social media to recruit and interact with future and current students, parents, alumni, staff and friends and develop them into active community participants. We have shared news, photos and achievements, and encourage participation from our audiences. Communications organised the College's contribution to the University of Melbourne Open Day in August, providing information about all of our educational divisions. The TCAC took a special role in recruitment and training of guides for the day, resourced by the Communications team. The logistics of managing Open Day without the Dining Hall as the hub involved constructing a new gate from Tin Alley and utilising the marquee as an asset that looked just like the other large marquees around campus on the day. Record numbers filled the College on the day.

CONFERENCES AND EVENTS

2012 had challenges due to the closure and refurbishment of the Dining Hall. The well-appointed marquee set up on the tennis court as a replacement dining area, however, provided an excellent substitute for catering and hospitality and Alliance Catering continued to provide quality service under the circumstances. Despite all the construction and building projects in 2012, the Conference and Events department continued to flourish and ended up well in excess of targets. In addition to the financial benefits, the Conference and Events department brings important groups to the College, exposing us to a much wider audience, both domestic and international. These outcomes could not have been achieved without the tremendous support of Assistant to Conference Manager, Pierre Houeix, Alliance Catering, Berkeley Challenge Cleaning Team, Buildings and Grounds, Main Reception and Accounts staff.

HUMAN RESOURCES

Professional development and training has been a priority of Human Resources in 2012. Mentoring opportunities for selected staff, on the job training, in-house training such as iPad and other IT workshops, regulatory training covering such areas as the Equal Opportunity Act (EOA), Code of Conduct, operational health and safety, first aid, and manual handling have all been offered. An online version of emergency management programs has also been developed in conjunction with the Critical Incident

Management Plan. We continue to offer our health and wellbeing programs, which are very popular with staff.

In 2012, 30 new staff started at Trinity College. There were two new Foundation Studies Subject Leaders, Ms Peetra Letche (English for Academic Purposes) and Dr Kerry Higgins (Chemistry), and two of our staff were made inaugural Professors at the new MCD University of Divinity: the Revd Professor Andrew McGowan and the Revd Professor Dorothy Lee.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SERVICES

Among the additional services delivered during 2012 included the iPad rollout to every Foundation Studies student, a staff identity card rollout and a visitor wireless internet access system.

The visitor wireless system provides access for defined classes of visitors to the College, including Board and Committee members and conference guests. More major improvements to the audio-visual (AV) facilities were made, completing the three-year AV upgrade plan. The first year of a three-year network improvement project was completed, improving the performance of the underlying computer network.

A new responsive design was implemented on the external website in collaboration with the Communications team, which vastly improves the user experience when accessing the external website on smart phones, tablets and different sized devices. This development improves the way potential students (and their parents) access information about the College.

Tenders for multi-year iPad provision and associated services as well as telephone call carriage were completed, as was the planned standardisation to the Mac operating system for staff computer use. Foundation Studies computer laboratory equipment was also replaced.

The computer network refresh (year one) was completed, which included a 2Gbps link upgrade for the south Carlton precinct, a 1Gbps link upgrade to Royal Parade buildings, replacement of routing and firewall equipment and expanded wireless coverage. Additional technology, including AV systems, was integrated into the refurbished Dining Hall. A broad range of IT infrastructure was provided for the Critical Incident Management Plan.

LIBRARY

The Library continues to offer reader services to students and staff of all parts of the College, running orientation and skills sessions at the beginning of the year to residential and Foundation Studies students, and offering research collections to students, staff and external readers. Four bursaries were created for students to supervise the Library during its extended evening opening hours.

Negotiations with the University of Melbourne's Library for the renewal of the contract for use of the Library by the Foundation Studies program have resulted in significant database access to the University Library's electronic resources for students and staff. The Librarian also negotiated with JSTOR and EBSCO Host regarding wider access to their databases. Major electronic databases in the Library currently focus on religion and theology; subscriptions were rationalised so as not to duplicate the resources available at the Dalton McCaughey Library, and we have now implemented EZproxy software that allows for remote authentication of users of electronic resources.

The Library's security system uses old technology that is no longer supported. A new system is being investigated that would allow the Library to implement self-service checkout and also monitor to take books from the Library that have not been checked out.

In April, Mary-Clare Adam, the goddaughter of Valentine Leeper, presented the Library with a doll that belonged to Valentine. The doll is a highly collectible item of some monetary value apart from the significance of its provenance, and was given on long-term loan.

A condensed version of an exhibition at the Red Gallery called Wunderkammer, curated by artist Rod Gray, was on display in the Library until March 2012. In May, the Library installed an exhibition called Found and Lost by artists Ria Green and Claire Humphries.

MUSIC

Across all its programs, Trinity continued to develop its musical talents.

A Trinity College Orchestra (at the instigation of resident student Felicity Martin) was formed at the beginning of the year, and there was success for the Trinity Tiger Tones on Channel 7's Australia's Got Talent. The Foundation Studies Singers were formed this year, an initiative of Foundation Studies Chaplain, the Revd Chris Carolane, and Director of Music, Mr Michael Leighton Jones. The group performed at Fare Dinkum and the Spring Concert to an enthusiastic reception. The Choir of Trinity College sang JS Bach's Johannes-Passion at the Melbourne Recital Centre in March under the baton of Stephen Layton, Director of Music at Trinity College, Cambridge. Former chorister, Siobhan Stagg, was soprano soloist and Michael Leighton Jones sang the role of Jesus. John O'Donnell concluded his role as College Organist at the end of 2012. His skills in the organ loft, particularly his harmonisations of the last verses of hymns and improvised organ voluntaries at the end of Sunday services have been a musical treat.

The Choir toured in June and July, returning to Germany and visiting the Baltic States and St Petersburg for services and a highly successful series of concerts to appreciative audiences. The Choir's first engagement back in Melbourne was a very well received concert of Bach's music – Cantatas 51 and 182 and the Magnificat – with Greta Bradman and visiting German tenor, Wolfram Lattke, among the soloists. Several significant milestones during the year provided performance opportunities for the Choir – the College's 140th Anniversary Celebration Dinner in August, the University of Melbourne's Faculty of Medicine 150th Anniversary Dinner in September, and the inaugural Anatomy Department Service of Thanksgiving for those who had donated their bodies for medical research and teaching in October. The Choir also continued its community involvement with services at St Matthew's, Broadford, in celebration of the church's 150th anniversary in August and a May concert at St Michael's Church in the city. The Trinity Gents sang at lunchtime functions at the Lyceum and Savage Clubs during the year, and the Melbourne-based choral scholars were part of the Melbourne Arts Centre Christmas Morning Melodies in December. The Choir was honoured to be invited to sing at the state funeral for Dame Elisabeth Murdoch, an exceptionally generous supporter of the College, particularly its music programs.

ABC Classics also released several CDs during 2012 with tracks by the Trinity College Choir – For the God who Sings and Rule Britannia! – The Music that Made Britain Great. Lest We Forget – The Music of Remembrance also featured the Choir in several hymns as well as appropriate anthems and motets, including a premiere recording of For the Fallen by Michael Leighton Jones. Later in the year, there were two CD releases: British Choral Music and 50 Best-Loved Hymns, the second being a two CD set with 35 tracks sung by the Choir.

STAFF ACHIEVEMENTS

Tim Bell attended the Django Conference Europe in June 2012, Apple World Wide Developer Conference in June, and presented at the Apple University Consortium XWorld in July, and the Large Installation System Administration Conference in December.

Rosemary Blight completed her Doctor of Philosophy in the Graduate School of Education, the University of Melbourne, with a thesis titled Creating Indigenous Futures: Using Applied Theatre to Construct a Participatory Creative Space for Indigenous Australian Young People. She also presented Participatory Spaces for Indigenous Young People through Applied Theatre at the Melbourne University Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Research Symposium in October.

Dr Peter Campbell JP is an Honorary Research Fellow at the Melbourne Conservatorium of Music, the University of Melbourne. An article, 'Eclectic Experience, Eclectic Style: An Interview with Joseph Twist' and a review of Michael Kassler's The Music Trade in Georgian London appeared in Context, 35/36 (2010/2011): 167–79; 203–6, and a review of the Trinity College Music Theatre Society's production of The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee appeared in Trinity Today 79 (Nov 2012): 17. In December he gave a conference paper entitled Onward, Christian Soldiers: Hymnbooks as a Site of Social and Religious Politics in Australia at the 35th Annual Conference of the Musicological Society of Australia in Canberra. He continued as a member of the editorial committee for Context: A Journal of Music Research and the organising committee for the Wagner and Us symposium to be held in December 2013. He is Treasurer of the Victorian Chapter of the Musicological Society of Australia, Archivist for the Australian Intervarsity Choral Societies Association, and Treasurer of the early music group Ensemble Gombert Inc. As a composer, two baptismal motets were performed during the year, the first, And it Came to Pass, in Perth in June, and the second, a setting of One Drop of Water, to a text by Dr Katherine Firth, was sung by the Choir of Trinity College in the Chapel in September. His motet The Greatness of God (Julien of Norwich) was sung at a wedding in December. Two hymn arrangements, Christ be My Leader and An Upper Room were released on 50 Best-Loved Hymns (ABC Classics). Peter sang with the Consort of Melbourne for its first subscription concert and for the Melbourne Recital Centre's performance of Bach's Johannes-Passion, directed by Stephen Layton. Peter sang a concert of early music in Canberra in May, services with the Choir of St George's Cathedral, Perth, in June, a performance of the Brahms Requiem for the 63rd Australian Intervarsity Choral Festival in July, and a concert with Gloriana Chamber Choir and services with the Choir of the Canterbury Fellowship in November. He was also lucky to be available to assist – as a last-minute stand-in – during the Choir of Trinity College's tour to Germany and the Baltic States in July.

Dr Barbara Cargill attended the British Academy of Management conference in Cardiff in September.

Greg Chenhall attended the Gartner IT Symposium in November.

The Revd Canon Dr Ray Cleary

AM, published Reinventing Welfare for Mission: Choices for Churches (Canberra: Barton Books, 2012), which was launched at the College in August. He continues as a member of the Victorian Children's Council and a Board member of the International Forum on Child Welfare. In August he gave the J Nall Lecture on the topic The church's engagement with justice to the combined churches in Geelong.

Geoff Crompton attended the Linux Conference Australia in January and Pycon 2012 in March.

Dr Sally Dalton-Brown

published 'Global ethics and Nanotechnology: A Comparison of the Nanoethics Environments of the EU and China,' NanoEthics, 6.2 (2012): 137–50.

Dr Anne Elvey was appointed editor of the scholarly journal Colloquium: The Australian and New Zealand Theological Review; as editor she is a member of ANZATS Council. During the year she co-edited with Carol Hogan, Kim Power, and Claire Renkin, Reinterpreting the Eucharist: Explorations in Feminist Theology and Ethics (Equinox Publishing). She published Living one for the other: Eucharistic hospitality as ecological hospitality, Reinterpreting the Eucharist: Explorations in Feminist Theology and Ethics, edited by Anne Elvey, Carol Hogan, Kim Power and Claire Renkin (Equinox Publishing), Love and Justice in the Gospel of Luke – Ecology, the Neighbour and Hope, Australian Biblical Review 60.2 (2012): 1–17, 'On earth peace', Gesher: The official journal of the Council of Christians and Jews (Victoria) Inc. 4.3 (2012): 43–44, and a review of Alan H Cadwallader, Beyond the Word of a Woman: Recovering the Bodies of the Syrophenician Women, in Australian Biblical Review 60 (2012): 89–91, and gave the following conference papers:

Acknowledging Traditional Owners of the Land: A Theological Inquiry, StoryWeaving Postcolonial Theologies Conference, Whitley College, 23–25 January 2012; The sense of sight in the Gospel of Luke: Encountering the text as "visible voice", ACBA, Melbourne, 5–8 July 2012; Rethinking Neighbour Love: A Conversation between Political Theology and Ecological Ethics, ASLEC-ANZ, Monash University, 31 August–2 September 2012; Rethinking Neighbour Love: A Conversation between Political Theology and Ecological Ethics, FBS National Conference, CTM, 24–25 September 2012; and Thinking through things: bodies, matter, words: re-framing feminist theologies through an ecological materialist lens, 1st Gender and Religion International Seminar: Women, Religion and Politics, Shoal Bay, NSW, 14–16 December 2012.

Dr Katherine Firth joined the Board of Acorn Press Ltd and was an Examining Chaplain for the Diocese of Melbourne.
