DEVELOPING A NEW GENERATION OF LEADERS

Trinity College is one of Australia’s foremost tertiary institutions. It is an acknowledged leader in offering innovative educational experiences to high-achieving students.

The Young Leaders Summer School is an outstanding academic and personal development program designed to give senior secondary students an intellectual and social edge for their final years of school.

The Young Leaders Summer School provides exciting opportunities for students to experience a hands-on taste of university life, to be inspired and challenged by leading academics in a range of subject areas, enjoy stimulating extracurricular activities, and build understanding and friendships with other young people from across Australia and around the world.

YOUNG LEADERS SUMMER SCHOOL

An intensive two-week program designed to give talented secondary school students from Australia and overseas a taste of university life and an opportunity to enrich their knowledge and skills with stimulating subject matter in a positive and exciting environment.

All students at the Summer School will choose to be part of an Elective World. All of the Elective Worlds feature highly interactive teaching, excursions and group work. All students will also take the core series of lectures, workshops and discussion groups that include Imagining the Future, Drama and Leadership Development activities.

Persuasive World: looks at the world of media, psychology and law. Students will investigate the psychology behind how we persuade others for our own benefit and how such techniques can influence our interactions with others and the important decisions we make.

Creative World: focuses on the world of creative arts through the different forms; including creative writing, visual and performance arts. Students will explore the important, influential and communicative role creative arts play in our society.

Our Natural World: explores the environment by looking into issues in fields like geology and ecology. We will consider accepted observations of the natural world, the thoughts and works of scientists, the effect of human impact on the environment and ethical issues related to science.

Inner World: explores the world of medicine and medical research. Through investigating rapidly changing areas from forensics to bioethics students, will investigate the issues pertinent to our world today and in the future.

Outer World: will look at the advancement of society through exploring the world of technology and outer space. From astronomy to engineering, students will investigate some of the advancements and innovations made in these exciting areas.

Elective Worlds may vary depending on student numbers for each of the Summer School programs. The Inner, Outer and Natural World may be offered as a combined course, or three separate streams. Please note that students attending the Young Leaders Winter School do not choose an Elective World.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL HAS BEEN A LIFE ALTERING EXPERIENCE FOR ME. I DISCOVERED MYSELF, FOUND MY LIMITS, PUSHED THEM AND SUCCumbed TO THEM, BEFORE JUMPING BACK UP AND TRYING AGAIN. I LOVED THE SUMMER SCHOOL, THE LEADERS, MENTORS AND EVERYONE HERE AT TRINITY. MY ONLY WISH IS THAT THE YLSS WAS LONGER.’

YOUNG LEADERS WINTER SCHOOL
Trinity College is pleased to announce that the Young Leaders Summer School programs will now form part of the Trinity Institute. As part of this development the July program will now comprise of Young Leaders Winter School Parts 1 and 2. While there are two parts, they work together as a fantastic two week program featuring academic, leadership and extra-curricular components.

YOUNG LEADERS WINTER SCHOOL, PART 1 – PERSUASIVE WORLD
This academic program looks at the world of media, psychology and law. The course aims to introduce students to the broad framework of psychological theory and principles that help to explain human behaviour in a number of different situations and environments.

Students will investigate the psychology behind how we persuade others for our own benefit and how such techniques can influence our interactions with others and the important decisions we make. The program features highly interactive teaching, excursions and group work focusing on developing key skills for success in the classroom and beyond.

YOUNG LEADERS WINTER SCHOOL, PART 2 – LEADERSHIP FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE
This program develops leadership skills associated with grassroots movements for social justice, such as equality, democracy and transformation in young people. The program targets secondary school students in, or moving into, leadership roles within their schools.

With its focus on social justice and critical enquiry, the program will encourage students to strive beyond the typical student leadership role to make a difference in their wider community.
