WARDEN'S REPORT

2016 will no doubt be recorded in the annals of Trinity College's history as important and noteworthy, highlighted principally by two milestones; the commencement of classes in the Gateway building and the convening of the inaugural Indigenous Tertiary Education Conference.

GATEWAY BUILDING

On 22 August 2016, we welcomed over 400 Pathways School students for the first day of classes in the $30 million Gateway building. The Gateway building affirms and strengthens our partnership with the University of Melbourne, particularly in preparing international students to study and live in Melbourne. It is a tangible expression of Trinity's commitment to higher education and to providing transformative experiences for young people of any nationality, ethnicity, race or creed. The building provides exceptional tutorial resources for pathways, residential and theological students and state of the art facilities for visual and performing arts.

INDIGENOUS TERTIARY EDUCATION CONFERENCE

On 18-19 November 2016, Trinity College in partnership with the Melbourne Centre for the Study of Higher Education hosted the inaugural Indigenous Tertiary Education Conference in the Gateway building.

Focusing on the theme of transitions, the conference provided a forum where a diverse range of people came together to share information and knowledge on how best to support and improve outcomes for Indigenous higher education students.

The 2016 Narrm Orator, Stan Grant (journalist, social commentator and author), chaired the student forum. At this session, four of Trinity's Indigenous students (Alexandra Hohoi, Douglas Briggs, Eloise Bentley and Neerim Callope) spoke candidly with audience members about the challenges facing Indigenous students transitioning to higher education.

I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to the Conference Committee chaired by Professor Ian Anderson, the Pro Vice-Chancellor (Engagement) and Foundation Chair in Indigenous Higher Education at the University of Melbourne; the Conference Ambassador Professor Marcia Langton, Fellow of Trinity College and Foundation Chair of Australian Indigenous Studies at the University of Melbourne and Rachel Landgren (TC 2006), Indigenous Conference Project Officer, for her tireless work in helping to organise the conference.

The College strives to deliver on our commitment to improve educational outcomes for Indigenous Australians and the ongoing work of reconciliation between Australia's First Peoples and non-Indigenous Australians.

THE STRATEGIC PURPOSE

In March 2016, Trinity College began the process of developing a new Strategic Plan. The College partnered with Social Ventures Australia (SVA), consultants in the not-for-profit sector, to ensure the Strategic Plan supports the development of the College consistent with our values and purpose.

A succinct statement of the College's Strategic Purpose was developed with input from many members of the extended College community. That statement, approved by the Trinity College Board, is:

'Trinity College is a vibrant, diverse community inspiring and enabling students of exceptional promise to imagine and achieve a better world.'

The strategic planning process has been very revealing – did you know for instance that if we continue with our current enrolments, we will have almost 70,000 alumni by 2050, that the Residential College had students from 120 schools in residence in 2016 and that the fifth top source of students for the Residential College was the Pathways School?

DIVISION OVERVIEW

Trinity College continued to host events for students, alumni and friends of the College both domestically and internationally; reunions for both young and older alumni. The year featured continuing success stories from students, staff, alumni and friends of the College and many highlights from each division of the College (Pathways School, Residential College and the Theological School).

In addition to the opening of the Gateway building and commencement of classes on 22 August 2016 for students in the Pathways School, the year also featured the establishment of a Foundation Studies Alumni Committee to connect with Foundation Studies Alumni as well as increased engagement with Foundation Studies students and alumni through the Careers and Alumni Office. The Pathways School Marketing team also identified new and emerging markets including Iran, Mongolia, Nepal, Pakistan and Nigeria. A Chaplain and Nurse were recruited to provide welfare support for students and staff within the Pathways School and more broadly throughout the College.

The sporting year was hugely successful in the Residential College with our women earning the intercollegiate Holmes Shield for most successful college, the men finishing second in the Cowan Cup and Trinity earning the combined trophy, the Tickner Cup. The year also saw the women go back-to-back in the netball for the first time and the men's Australian Rules team claim their third consecutive premiership. The successes on the sporting field were matched by outstanding academic and extra-curricular achievement off the pitch. Miranda Gronow (TC 2012), past residential student and current Resident Tutor in Classics and Ancient Civilizations, was awarded the Academic Medal for the Faculty of Arts as she was the highest achieving student in the Faculty in her undergraduate degree. Residential student Tyson Holloway-Clarke was appointed the President of the Melbourne University Student Union (UMSU). The 2016 recipient of the Bill Cowan Award for Alumnus of the Year was Julian McMahon (TC 1986), human rights lawyer who was in residence and tutored at Trinity in the late 1980s. In 2016, he was also named Victorian Australian of the Year for his work as a barrister, human rights advocate and fierce opponent of the death penalty.

In the Theological School, we continued to strengthen our partnership with the University of Divinity, which began in 2015. In February 2016, we held the Anglican Conference, 'Life in Abundance', a forum for theologians across the Anglican Church of Australia to come together and discuss various issues in their dioceses. In August, the Archbishop's Dinner raised over $170,000 for the Faith in Our Future Appeal. The money raised has gone to the appointment of an additional staff member, The Revd Dr Robyn Whitaker (TCTS 1998), who is contributing greatly to the future of Trinity College Theological Studies as the Bromby Lecturer in Biblical Studies and Online Coordinator. The Theological School had six students residing within the College in 2016, three of whom were undertaking doctoral studies. Four of the students shared a house on Royal Parade, and created a new community linked both to the Residential College and the Theological School. Finally, I congratulate and commend our five students from the Theological School who were ordained to the priesthood on 26 November 2016.

Our community is thriving, it is an incredible place for our students to live and study and for those of us who are fortunate enough to work here.

All with best wishes,

Professor Ken Hinchcliff

Warden

Sheridan (eds.), How John Works: Storytelling in the Fourth Gospel (Atlanta: Society of Biblical Literature Press, 2016): 151-170. She gave a series of studies on the Bible for the 'Life in Abundance' Mission Conference in February which was held at Trinity and organised by the Theological School and several Anglican agencies, and attended by 200 people. She gave a paper at the 'Australian and New Zealand Association of Theological Schools' conference in Melbourne entitled, 'Creation and Ethics in the Gospel of John'. She also gave a paper (in absentia) at the Society of Biblical Literature Conference in the USA in the Johannine Literature Section entitled, 'Sensuality, the Body/Flesh and Creation in the Gospel of John'. Dorothy wrote a regular column in The Melbourne Anglican on theological issues and preached and gave addresses at a number of parishes and dioceses in Melbourne and Victoria. Dorothy attended the annual Doctrine Commission of the Anglican Church, of which she is a member, in March which was held in Adelaide. She was also appointed to the Standing Committee of General Synod in the Anglican Church of Australia and attended interstate meetings. She is also a Canon of St Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, and Canon Theologian of Holy Trinity Cathedral, Wangarratta, and a Fellow of the Australian Academy of the Humanities. Dorothy completed in December the final proofs of her forthcoming book with Paulist Press, The Gospels Speak: Addressing Life's Questions.

Dr Tamar Lewit's academic activities in 2016 included completing an invited chapter 'Invention, tinkering, or transfer? Innovation in oil and wine presses in the Roman Empire', in P. Erdkamp, K. Verboven and A. Zuiderhoek (eds) Capital, Investment and Innovation in the Roman World, Oxford Studies on the Roman Economy (OSRE) (Oxford: Oxford University Press, in press), and 'Review of Banaji, J. Exploring the Economy of Late Antiquity', The Classical Review 67 (2016): in press. She co-authored with Professor A Chavarria (Padova University) a conference presentation on human interaction with the environment through settlement and land use in the first millennium Mediterranean for the international conference Environment and Society in the First Millennium A.D., The Society of Antiquaries, London. She presented a lecture on archaeological evidence for transformation in the 4th century Roman Empire in the School of Historical and Philosophical Studies, University of Melbourne, and seminar on 'Technological Innovation in Roman Oil and Wine Presses' to staff of the Centre for Classical Studies and the School of Archaeology and Anthropology at the Australian National University, Canberra. She also presented a seminar on archaeological methods within the Classics Honours: Methods and Evidence course (3rd to 4th year and Masters by Coursework) at the ANU. Her academia.edu page was ranked in the top 0.1% of more than 30 million registered researchers worldwide in February 2016, and most notable 2016 citations of her research publications include A. Bresson, E. Lo Cascio, and F. Velde (eds.) The Oxford Handbook of Economies in the Classical World, Oxford, Oxford University Press (in press) and M. Decker 2016 The Byzantine Dark Ages, Bloomsbury Publishing, London. She continues to hold an Honorary Fellowship in the School of Historical and Philosophical Studies, The University of Melbourne.

Revd Professor Mark Lindsay published 'The Evolution of Karl Barth's Doctrine of Election' in S. Hattrell (ed.), Election, Barth, and the French Connection, (Eugene, OR: Wipf & Stock, 2016). He also completed an article entitled 'The Heavenly Witness to God: Karl Barth's Doctrine of Angels' for the Scottish Journal of Theology (in-press), and a chapter on 'Karl Barth and Israel', for P. Nimmo & P.D. Jones (eds), The Oxford Handbook of Karl Barth, (Oxford: OUP, in-press). In February, he presented a paper on 'A Theology of Refuge' at Trinity College's Life in Abundance conference, and a further paper entitled 'Divine Forgetfulness and the Re-creation of Memories: The significance of the Sepultus est...' at the Australian and New Zealand Association of Theological Schools (ANZATS) conference in Melbourne. At the University of Divinity's research day in June, Mark spoke on the topic of 'Ecclesiology and Election in the Early Fathers', which will be published in the journal Colloquium (in-press). In March, Mark served as an assessor for the Australian Research Council, and examined a PhD thesis for the University of Queensland. At the request of Professor Peter Sherlock, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Divinity, Mark chaired the organising committee for the 2016 ANZATS conference. In July, Mark was appointed Deputy Dean of the Theological School. He continues as a research associate with the Centre for the Study of Religion and Politics at the University of St. Andrews. From November 2016 to January 2017, Mark was a visiting scholar at the Center for Barth Studies, at Princeton Theological Seminary.
